Making the world go 'round

Student life is a very important issue to the students who want to participate in social events. It helps make time go by faster and it makes school more enjoyable.

If there was no Student Life, people would miss out of a lot in their high school years. School should be not only for learning but to also have fun in a good way.

So why don't you make the right decision and join the Student Life today. It'll make your high school years more memorable.

TOUCHDOWN!!!

• Senior Lance Stephens plays with Broad Ripple's #54 as he sneaks the ball to #21. Stephens is Manual's quarterback for the second year.

Victory Makes the World Go 'Round

October 1, 1993, was a truly memorable evening. The Manual Redskins played a very competitive Broad Ripple team. Neither team scored in the first half of the game. The ball was simply making its way up and down the field and never quite making a touchdown.

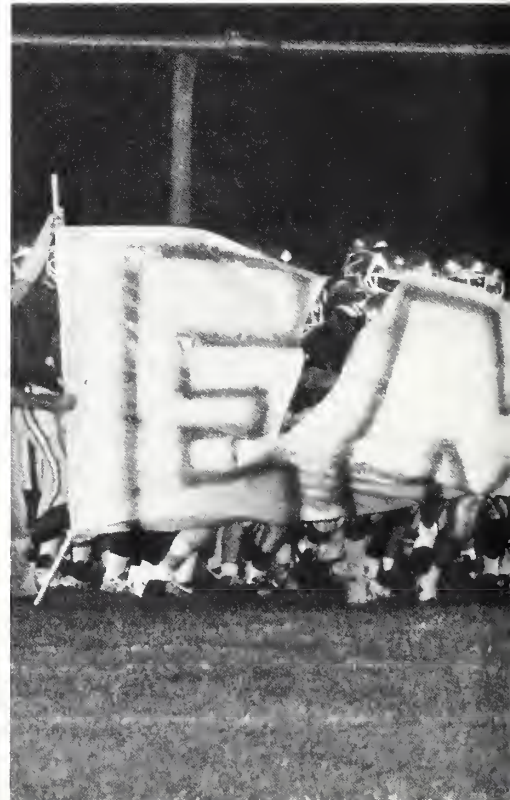

The halftime activities consisted of entertainment by the Manual Marching Band and the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen. This year's winners were King Lance Stephens and Queen Andrea Bates. The class of 1995 won the hall decorating contest.

Manual came back strong in the third quarter, and the first player to make a touchdown was James Gunter. The Rockets then made their first touchdown for the evening, but Dave Carnell blocked their extra point. This left the Redskins in the lead with their winning score of 7-6.

by Mandi Ott

• WATCH OUT!!!! The Redskins are tearing through the Homecoming banner to mutilate and scalpe the Broad Ripple Rockets.

• Senior Amanda Mitchell smiles big to show off her Manual Pride. Many students participated in Homecoming activities such as red & white day and jersey day.

- Homecoming King Lance Stephens and Queen Andrea Bates are crowned during halftime activities. Don't they look sooo happy?

- Seniors Brad Pardue (Chip) and Todd Shelby (Dale) pose proudly after Manual's tremendous Homecoming victory over the Broad Ripple Rockets.

- The Homecoming Court: Carlos Cloyd, Mike Jones, Eric Nibbs, Neil Linville, Andrea Bates, Nichelle Green, Kemi Hutcherson, Crystal Mallory, and Michelle Ratliff.

• Princess Andrea Bates and Prince Neil Linville enjoy a magical dance after winning the royal crown.

Moonlit nights

The theme for the 1993 Junior-Senior Prom was "Nights In White Satin". It was held on April 17 at the Murat Temple. The theme song was "I Will Always Love You" by Whitney Houston. The colors were black, white, and silver.

Prom started with dinner, and was followed by dancing. Later in the evening the king, queen, prince, and princess were announced. The royalty then lead the dance to the theme song of prom.

The king and queen of prom were Steve Morelock and Brandy Muckey. The prince and princess of prom were Neil Linville and Andrea Bates.

• Robin Berry, Jamie Snapp, Kelli VanMeter, and John Ash are finishing their meal of chicken and potatoes. "Is this any better than school lunch?"

• Denise Johnson and Brad Pardue are obviously enjoying each other's company.

- Queen Brandy Muckey and King Steve Morelock are enchanted after the royal crowning.

- The Senior Court: Front row: Brandy Muckey, Raya Caldwell, Belinda Jones, Nikita McClendon and Gloria Kirkland; Back row: Steve Morelock, Tim Sutt, Earlon Hollowell, and Franiko Ballard.

- The Junior Court: Front row: Rhonda Grady, Nichelle Green, Lori White, Michelle Ratliff, Elizabeth Medel, and Andrea Bates; Back row: Neil Linville, Eric Nibbs, Chad Phillips, and Vernon Morgan.

• Senior Hollie Thomas struggles to keep going up-up-and-away!

Spring Moves into Manual Territory

The 1993 Pow Wow held at the end of Manual's school year is always a fun event looked forward to by the students and faculty. The Pow Wow started after school on April 30th and lasted until 7:30 p.m.

Many of the Redskins had their friends and or enemies locked up in the jail. It's always the greatest highlight of the evening. Other events of the Pow Wow included face painting done by the Art Club, balloons and popcorn were sold by the IVIAN and the Booster staffs, and Roines sponsored the ever famous Pie in the Face.

James Hopgood and Friday Walker were crowned Pow Wow King and Queen. Mr. Brunsting provided the music for the Pow Wow, and everybody had a great time.

by Launda Bolden

- Miss Powell, English teacher, collects money as she sells flowers for the teachers' booth. Every year the teachers sell geraniums, pansies, marigolds, and roses to help us enter the spring time mood.
- What! Is that Miss Mann? It sure is. Maybe now she knows how it feels to be locked up. Rumor has it that over 300 students at Pow Wow each paid 50 cents to keep her in the jail all night. Do you believe that?!

- The Pow Wow Queen, Friday Walker, and King, James Hopgood, show their bright faces to the Pow Wow crowd after being crowned.
- Joey Bevers, senior, cringes as all of the cream pies come flying toward his "study" face.

- The 1992-3 Pow Wow Court: Jamie Hudson, Michelle Ratliff, James Hopgood, Friday Walker, Steve Morelock, and Neil Linville.

SUPER BOWL

If ever a team looked Dynastic it was the Dallas Cowboys. Dallas won the 1993 Super Bowl by five touchdowns. The Buffalo Bills were 10 and 2 in the 90's against NFC teams in the regular season.

The Bills are good at forgetting, good at turning their heads when the Super Bowl highlights flicker onto their big screen.

FLORIDA MURDERS

Between October 1992 and October 1993 there were nine foreign visitors to Florida who were murdered. The biggest fall against the state was when German Barbara Jensen was beaten, stabbed, and run over in April. Now when people speak of Florida, they speak of the violence.

EARTHQUAKE IN INDIA

An earthquake devastated dozens of villagers in southwestern India. Some people survived because they were out on the streets when the earthquake hit. Unfortunately, it struck at 4 o'clock in the morning when hardly anyone was out.

The worst hit state was in eastern Maharashtra. Thousands of the villagers were asleep in homes built of boulders or concrete.

MIDWESTERN FLOODING

The Midwest was swamped again.

Northeast Oklahoma was battling the floods as residents along the Missouri and Mississippi rivers continued to fight high water. Many people were flooded out of their homes, and they had to live alongside highways in tents. Other residents were displaced by the heavy rains, which caused the Meramec River to swell to 14 feet.

MICHAEL JORDAN'S RETIREMENT

After three straight championships Michael Jordan retired. He announced his retirement from professional basketball on Wednesday, October 6, 1993. Many of his fans were disappointed and were wondering why he wanted to retire. Michael Jordan said that he hasn't any goals left.

"When I lose the motivation to win, I have no need to play," says Michael Jordan.

HEALTH REFORM

One of the most controversial issues among politically conscience Americans this past year has been President Clinton's health reform plan. The plan's main objective is to see that everyone has health insurance and receives care when necessary. The plan will have a profound effect on every American citizen. Many will gain more at lower cost others will pay more for fewer benefits than they now receive.

PARTNERS

For many years now Manual and Eli Lilly have been partners in education.

Every year Lilly sponsors many programs and events for the students at Manual. One of these programs include the Big Sisters program where women who work for Lilly and girls who are students at Manual are paired up. The ladies go on field trips as a Big Sister/Little Sister group, and they also get together as Big Sister and Little Sister to do things on their own time. The "What Does a Scientist Do?" program is another program that Lilly does for Manual. This program consists of Lilly scientists coming to Manual and helping to conduct different experiments for science students to participate in.

Also, at the end of the year, Eli Lilly helps to recognize the students who have excelled in the time that they have spent at Manual. The students who are honored include the top ten juniors, the individuals who are inducted into the National Honor Society, and students who receive an academic letter in their Junior or Senior year.

From providing equipment for learning to providing funds for field trips, Lilly has really helped Manual students get the most out of their education.

by Amanda Ott

• Brenton Ludlow is one of the fortunate Manualites who does not have to contend with the school bus. He just has to worry about his car starting every morning. Jumper cables, anyone?

The Evil Twinkie

Don't you hate riding that big, evil yellow twinkie? I know I do. I hate it because I can't stop at McDonald's or stop to get a friend. Having to sit three to a seat just ain't happenin'. Instead of being in school, I'm all the way out by Lafayette Square for a scenic tour.

On the other hand, the students who drive to school have a great advantage. They go anywhere they want, stop to eat anywhere they want, and come and go anytime they want. Bus riders have to be on the bus stop at about 6 or 6:30 while drivers are still asleep or up eating Cheerios and watching cartoons.

Walkers have to judge their timing when they're walking. They can't walk too slow or too fast. Otherwise, they're too early or too late. In the winter time the drivers laugh at freshmen walkers because Mommy dressed them in their snow-suits. This is the way Redskins get to school.

by Kevin McClung

• Evil Twinkie is right. Most students don't mind seeing the school bus come rolling along. However, this year has certainly been an exception. Manual students waited, sometimes for hours, for the bus to pick them up. Anyone who could find an alternative route to school did.

• Manual students moved up a few notches with the paving of the parking lot last year. It may not be that more students drive their cars, but it sure looks more orderly. Can you find your car anywhere in this lot?

- The Manual parking lot has always been a place to meet and greet others. Seniors Willie Branscum and Cassie Strode are resting before beginning a long day of learning.
- Josh Morgan wishes he had a futuristic car that opened its doors on his command. It's too bad he has to use man power to actually open the doors!

- Homecoming spirit not only works on attitudes and clothes and the school halls. Here Todd Shelby shows his Manual pride as he drives his pride of the road.

● The shoe worn by lots of people today with socks goes by several different names. Some people consider these shoes by Birkenstock to be a granola look. Others call it the Jesus sandal.

A World of Fashion

While walking down the halls of Emmerich Manual High School, you see a variety of styles. I asked some of the unique students at Manual about their different individual styles, and here are some replies I got....

"I'd describe my style as being a very original, artistic one," senior Billy Adams.

"My style reflects my attitude, because I can be myself, and that makes me happy," junior Lorrikus Sowell.

"I have my own style. I look for clothes that are very vogue and different," senior Dria Hatcher.

"I have a very confident attitude that makes me get along with people. I'd describe my style as a very casual, down to earth thang," senior Lance Stephens.

"I'm a weird kind of guy who buys clothes that fit," freshman Steve Price.

"My look is a grungy Seattle thang. I shop at the mall for flannels, blue jeans, and tees," junior Ben Messer.

● Nike, the most popular tennis shoe on the market today, really got a boost when Michael Jordan of the Chicago Bulls came on the scene. Nike Jordans can cost over $100. Imagine that for a shoe!

● Th-h-h-a-a-t-t's a-al-l-I-I, Folks! Shaundia Meeks sports her Mickey Mouse tee in the cafeteria. Disney and Warner Brothers characters are the big rage today. If you don't know the difference, think about the last time you watched cartoons!

• Kinney Madison sports a popular look worn by many Indianapolis students. Starter coats have been a hot item for a while. The latest trend is to wear pants way too big, big enough to drop to the floor if you don't walk just right.

• Wow! We like the Sprite in them. Heather McClure (top) and Crystal Blackwell (bottom) model clothes which are totally stylish and hip.

Raines pledging has been a Manual tradition for more years than anyone cares to remember. One part of that tradition states that the lucky pledges get to carry their buckets during the pledging period. Here several pledges are merely following the orders of their superiors. Are these really pledges or are they just bucket heads?

Making our way in the world

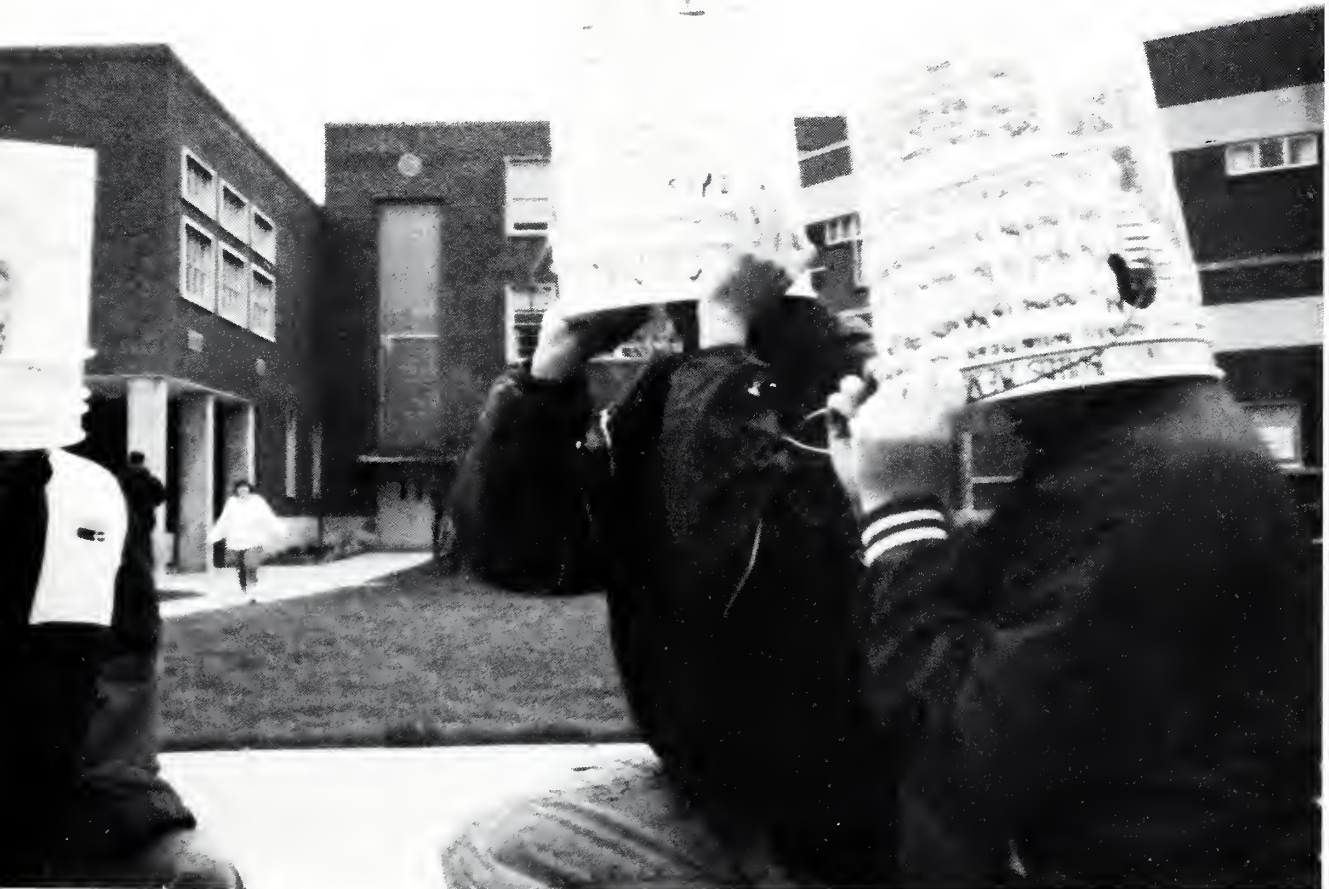

Clubs are a great way to get involved. You meet new and exciting people, you also go on field trips.

There is a great variety of different clubs that you can join. There is the VICA all the way to the foreign language clubs.

You can benefit a lot from clubs. You can earn honor points for the league of honor, or you can just get the satisfaction of doing volunteer work or community service.

It will make your years at Manual fly by with memories.

WHOOMP...THERE IT IS

The music department is an exciting place to be. There are many fun classes in which to participate. These classes include Band, Concert Choir, Girls Glee Club, Keyboard, Manualaires, and Orchestra.

These different groups of very talented students participate at school for students and teachers, and they go out on field trips to perform for the public. They performed at the Select Schools Fair, and they also performed at the Union Station. The students really enjoy going out to show off what they do best. It's a fun way for them to get out of the normal routine of school, and it's enjoyable to entertain the public.

Sometimes some of the students go to solo and ensemble contests. The students go on these outings only if they choose to. It's not something they have to do. When the students who do participate finish the contest, they are very proud of themselves.

Music opens the mind and fills it with new ideas. If students enjoy making music, they should join in the excitement of the Manual Music department. Playing a musical instrument or singing in the choir can be a great challenge, but it can also be a lot of fun.

FIRE IT UP

The Color Guard, Pathfinders, Exhibition Drill, and Female Drill Teams are Manual's few who show an interest in the military. The ROTC department is located in the basement of the music department. While in the class they learn to use military equipment, and they learn what responsibilities different parts of the United States Military have.

All of the groups of the ROTC units really know how to show their spirit. The students in ROTC participate in different events such as parades and they go on field trips to different Army bases and drill areas to show what they have learned through the ROTC program at Manual. The Color Guard participated in the Veterans Day parade this year, and they did exceptionally well.

Every Thursday the ROTC students wear their uniforms to earn grades for their class and to show that they have school spirit.

When a student enrolls in ROTC, they are trying to do their best. There are many scholarships that they may apply for as seniors by participating in ROTC. ROTC is also a very good way to learn good discipline and the importance of responsibility.

NO DRUGS HERE!!!

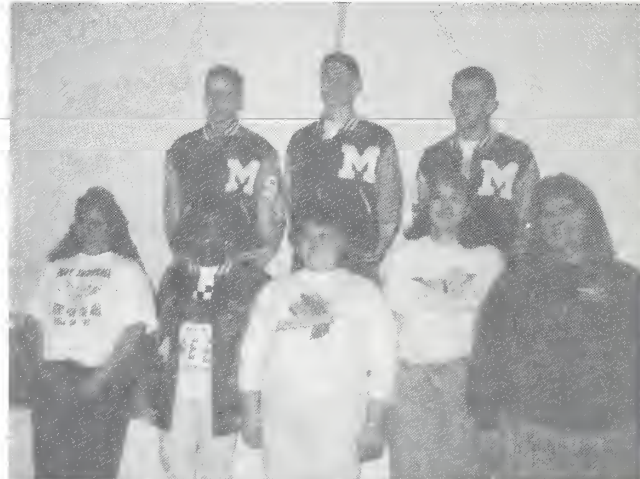

The Natural Helpers are out to save the world. This program teaches young students leadership skills and provides them with knowledge of various subjects that are problems for young people such as teenage pregnancy, child abuse, drug and alcohol abuse, divorce and depression. Various extracurricular activities that branch from the Natural Helpers program are S.A.D.D., Clean Team, and Snowball. These programs give the students chances to use the skills that they have developed in the Natural Helpers program.

Clean Team is a club that visits elementary schools to talk with fourth and fifth grade students about drugs, violence, and family problems. S.A.D.D. (Students Against Drunk Driving) is a club that makes people aware of the consequences of drunk driving. Snowball is a lock-in that invites many guest speakers to lecture on experiences with drugs, STDs, violence, and other serious subjects.

Natural Helpers is "a place where average and ordinary young people can and will develop into leaders. Those who need and care learn to be winners, not losers" as described by Dr. Hignite, the Natural Helpers advisor. by Wendy Linville

MANUAL'S TOP DOGS

Senior Council is a group of very devoted seniors who make very important decisions about graduation, prom, and different activities that the senior class will participate in throughout the year. This year's senior council has been extremely successful. The council was about twice as big as the councils that Manual has had in the past few years. They planned a senior bonfire, and it turned out to be a tremendous success. During Homecoming, the senior council blew up over a 1000 helium balloons and sold Homecoming mums. They work great together to show that they are the class with the most spirit. The senior council is a superb group of students acting as role models for the underclassmen.

Junior Council helps the senior council plan for the Junior/Senior Prom. They have a junior dress up day where they try to out dress the seniors. During the spring they are recognized on Junior Appreciation Day. The officers speak to the entire class and the Top Ten Juniors are announced. They are a very devoted group of juniors and they help make the very important decisions for their class.

SAY WHAT???

The Computer / Video Club, Math and Science Club, French Club, and Spanish club all provide useful resources for their members.

The Spanish and French clubs play different kinds of culture games. They learn different things about various countries that speak that particular language. The French and Spanish clubs are a fun way to learn useful information.

The Math and Science Club provides students a chance to use their scientific and mathematical knowledge. They go to different competitions at colleges such as Purdue and Indiana State University. They provide the funds for these trips by fundraisers and grants from local companies. Some of the different fund raisers they do are selling poinsettias for Christmas and selling candy for two weeks during the year.

The Computer / Video Club is a new club at Manual this year, and it gives students a chance to learn about and how to use video equipment. They provide the school with video announcements on every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Mrs. Nolan and Mrs. Millenbaugh are the ones who are in charge of this club, and even though there are some obstacles, they believe this club will go far.

WE CAN HELP

Many people have heard of the Key Club, Eli Lilly's Little Sister's, Project Set, and the Student Affairs Board. They all have something to do with students that care about their future and the environment around them.

The Key Club is sponsored by Mrs. Evans-Allen. These students along with Mrs. Evans-Allen raise money for good causes and have canned food drives for the homeless. This group of students seems to be everywhere and anywhere they are needed.

The Eli Lilly Little Sisters are different in a way that they help themselves. Each Little Sister filled out an application to be in the program. This club is sponsored by Eli Lilly. The volunteer Lilly employees are the Big Sisters. They go on outings to all sorts of educational and fun places.

Project Set is sponsored by Mr. Phillips. This program is for students who are interested in teaching or becoming a teacher.

The Student Affairs Board is sponsored by Mrs. Miles and Mr. Smith. Mostly, they make decisions for the student body and help with Homecoming. They also sponsor Teacher Appreciation Week and help with Parents-In-Touch. by Leeyetta Guinn

GAINING RESPECT.

At Manual there are many different clubs that one can join, but none are as unique as Masoma, Roines and National Honor Society. These are the honorary clubs of Manual. You must hold a certain grade point average, and you must be invited by the active members to join.

Masoma and Roines are pledge clubs. In the fall they initiate seniors for one week, and in the spring they initiate juniors for two weeks. During this initiation the officers and the actives must be greeted by the pledges, and the pledges must do, within reason, whatever the actives ask them to do.

To join the National Honor Society, one must hold a 6.0 grade point average. The active members elect new members each year from the junior class. This club is nationally recognized and it stands for Service, Courage, Scholarship, and Leadership.

All of these clubs do a little community service each year. Masoma has helped at Riley Children's Hospital and with the Shriner's Circus. Roines sponsors a food drive for the needy around the holidays. Both Masoma and Roines are in charge of the big wreath that is hung on the front of Manual each Christmas.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY: Row 1: Kemi Hutcherson, Neil Linville, David Carnell, David Chambers; Row 2: Mandi Ott, Tommy Tabor, Terry Shoopman.

Part of Roines pledging involves arriving at school early and doing calisthenics around the courtyard with your trusty pledge bucket. Tommy Tabor, Joey Bevers, Kevin Fields and David Chambers take their laps around the courtyard.

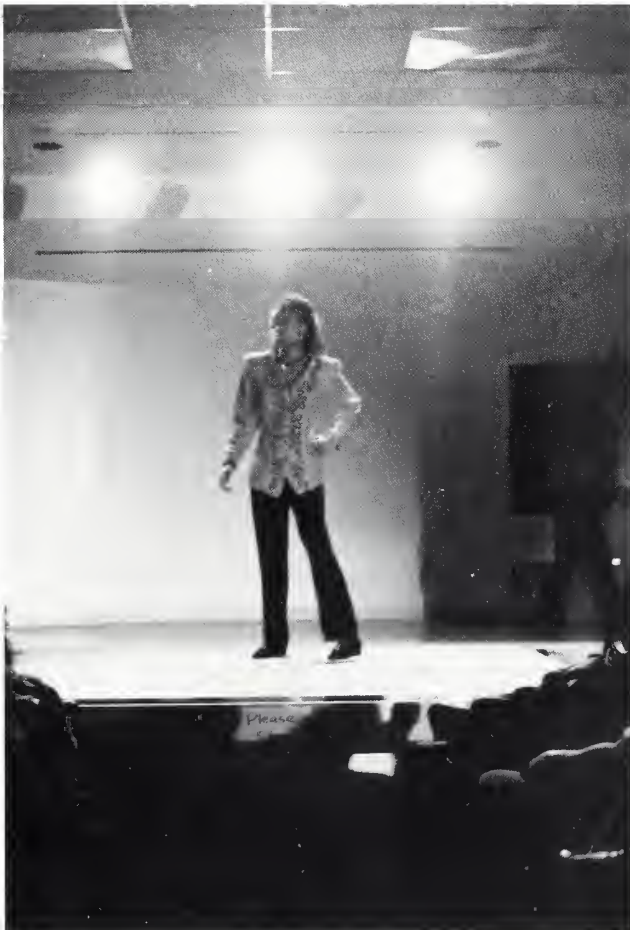

LET'S GET TO WORK

VICA is a two period class where students learn to work on cars and trucks. There is a class in the morning and one in the afternoon. However, VICA is not just a bunch of guys working on cars and getting dirty. There is a lot more to this class than that. There is a sense of brotherhood within it. Sometimes this class is the only family some of these students will ever experience. VICA gives the students a chance to work together and compete. There are state and international competitions that the students may participate in.

DECA and COE are cooperative learning classes. The students go to classes for half of the day, and they work the rest of the day. The students earn one credit per semester for their classroom work and two credits per semester for their on the job training. These students must be employed an average of 15 hours a week. Different places that Manualites in this program work include Brylane Inc. in the Lerner, Roaman's, and Land Bryant divisions, McDonalds, and Farm Bureau Insurance. To be in this program you must have completed one year of typing and complete introduction to marketing.

PULLING TOGETHER

Among the many clubs we have here at Manual, we have two of the best athletic clubs for our athletes. The first is Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) for those athletes who are Christian. These athletes attend a summer camp where they learn to improve their sports skills.

The second athletic club we have at Manual is Block M. This club is for those athletes who have earned their varsity letters in one or more sports. For their achievements they receive letter jackets and or letter sweaters.

Both Block M and FCA are designed to build leadership skills. They organize fun activities and help out in the Manual community. Throughout the year these clubs sponsor fundraisers such as candy sales. They also host a banquet at the end of the year.

At Manual we also have two wonderful vocational programs. They are Home Economics Related Opportunities (HERO), and Pre-Employment Vocational Experience (PVE). These clubs help students learn to obtain part-time jobs in the community, and it also helps them investigate different careers that will help them to decide what they will do in the future.

OUR OWN WORLD

The IVIAN and the BOOSTER staffs are important parts of Manual. The two staffs put a tremendous amount of effort into their work, and they are very proud of what they produce. Every month the newspaper staff puts out Manual's newspaper, the BOOSTER, once a month. It let's the students and faculty at Manual know what's going on in and around Manual. They write stories, have comics, and advertise important things.

The yearbook staff produces the yearbook, the IVIAN. It's not as easy as it may sound. The IVIAN has many deadlines to meet. Sometimes the staff stays after school and they even give up their Saturdays and vacations to work so they can meet their deadlines.

Being on the staffs may not sound that important, but without the IVIAN and the BOOSTER staffs many people wouldn't have anything to look back on. Ten years from now students will have their yearbooks and maybe some of the newspapers stashed away somewhere in an old chest that can bring back fond memories. It's a good way to remember their fun times, their sad times, and most importantly the friends they had in high school.

What the world needs now

High school is a place where young people start to grow. We face many new experiences between the walls of Manual High School. We meet our best friends or worst enemies. Some of us even meet the love of our lives.

All this plays a part in what our future holds. The seniors will head off into their own directions. Juniors will soon rule the school. Sophomores will move one more step up the ladder. The freshman will no longer be the "freshies."

The classes have competed against each other. These competitions have helped to bring together students to raise school spirit.

by Launda Bolden

For the last few years, the senior class has sponsored a Halloween costume day. Kelli VanMeter (the purse-carrying pumpkin) and Bruce Benedick (What? A nerd?) display their haunting spirits.

It has taken four long years to finally become "Mighty Seniors." This is the last year to participate in high school sports, to get free music lessons, and to enjoy all the fun activities that high school has to offer. Being seniors doesn't only mean that all of our hardest classes have already been taken nor does it mean that we get a free ride. To many of us it is the beginning of the end of a really great party, and pretty soon we'll all have to face THE REAL WORLD.

By the time we are seniors, we know nearly everything there is to know: all the short cuts, the best excuses for being late to class, and which teachers are exceptional pushovers.

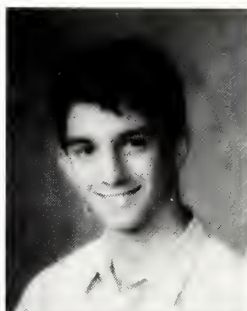

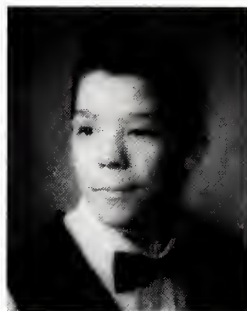

We as seniors should be proud of ourselves. We have worked extremely hard to get where we are today. We've enjoyed this year like no other. We can look back on the good times, the fun times, and even the few bad times that we have all experienced, and most importantly, we will remember friends with whom we shared these memories.

Many of us will attend college and have majors ranging for Undecided to Engineering. Others of us will join the work force and immediately start building the future. Some of our bravest classmates will serve our country by joining the armed forces, and of course, there will always be the moochers who stay at home.

We will hold our heads high as we march down the aisle to receive our diplomas; however, there will be a few tears shed, for this is the last time many of us will see each other. Other tears will be happy ones because WE'VE FINALLY MADE IT!

Every year after the initial excitement of being a senior wears off, the upperclassmen get an infamous "disease". It's not a bad disease and underclassmen don't get it. It is SENIORITIS.

This illness is very common among seniors across the country. It causes students to act strangely and do things they wouldn't normally do. Even the most diligent students find themselves tired of school and begin to slack off. The extent of the effect varies. One student may decide to skip a class while another may quit school all together. The most common action taken by seniors is cutting school. Some of the students tend to take the day off and just go outside to enjoy themselves.

You may know a victim of senioritis. You can tell who they are by the vacant look in their eyes and the way they seem entirely indifferent about things that were important to them in the past.

Someday in their future, the students who got senioritis may regret the choices they made during this illness. A small number of seniors might not get this disease, but it is unlikely. No matter how prepared one is they will always be tempted to enjoy those nice spring days off.

Senior Maryjeanne Siegman is really just a kid at heart. She even brings her bottle of juice to school with her, and her teddy bear is a great comfort to her as she makes her way through that jungle called senior year. Maryjeanne doesn't really dress like this regularly--just on Halloween costume day! The seniors took advantage of costume day and let their true colors shine through. And, some of those colors truly were scary.

"Dang, it's time to leave already." That's what all the seniors are saying these days. Just think: When we were freshmen, we were saying, "I'll be glad when I graduate and get out of this school." Now that the time is here everyone thinks, "Dang, that was quick."

The joys of being a senior are that we get to go to the cafeteria for F/A and talk senior stuff. Some of us get to leave school early, and some leave to go eat at a restaurant or fast food place instead of eating stale wheat bread pizza all year long.

Some disadvantages of being a senior is you'll spend a lot of money for things such as caps and gowns, prom, trips to King's Island, and a book you may have damaged during your four years here.

Some of the things we'll miss as the senior class of "94" are no more Homecoming dances, pep sessions, Proms, and no more hangin' with your close friends who have been with you throughout your whole four years here at Emmerich Manual High School.

Good luck in the future class of "94", and C-ya in ten years at the reunion.

Throughout the high school years, students go through many trials and tribulations. Some people get the feeling of incompetence, and they give up, but there are also those who fight through all of their hardships and manage to stay at the top of their class.

At Manual, or any other school for that matter, it is important for one to do the best he or she can. It opens many more doors when it comes to scholarships, colleges, and ultimately, jobs.

It's not easy to be active in extracurricular activities, get schoolwork and homework completed, sometimes hold a job, and still stay at the top of the class.

Here is some valuable advice from the class of 94 to consider. They are now experts in the field of high school, and you never know, what they have to say may help you out in your future at Manual.

"As advice to the underclassmen, I would say to set goals to acheive for yourself, because only by setting goals for yourself will you feel the need to reach these goals. This I leave to underclassmen and urge them don't just reach for the stars but grab them." David Carnell, #1

"From the first day I stepped into Manual, my goal was to be the top of my class. Even though I haven't reached that goal, I've managed to stay in the top. I think a big part of it is because I'm so involved in school, not just from 8:30 to 3:30 but before and after in clubs and sports as well. These extracurricular activities help keep me out of trouble, so I'm more focused on my success in school and sports. The main thing for high school success is getting involved." Neil Linville, #2

"My advice to the underclassmen is to get involved with all the different facets of the Manual High School community: academics, clubs, sports, and leadership. All of these activities will bring underclassmen closer to their school and to their friends. Learn to desire the best, because Emmerich Manual High is the best, and underclassmen, you have to continue to make it the best." Tommy Tabor, #3

"As an underclassman, I had to channel my energy in the right direction. Seek support and knowledge from your teachers and keep in mind that you're doing this for you and your future career." Terry Shoopman, #4

"My advice is to take your work seriously, but know when to slow down. Coming into Manual as a freshman, I joined as many clubs as possible and took all the toughest courses that I could because I wanted to be the best and I thought I could handle it all. As things got busier in my life, a lot of them had become so unmanageable that I lost control once in awhile." Kevin Fields, #5

"Through my high school years I have been through quite a bit, but have managed to stay at the top of my class by keeping my mind focused on education, which is very important to me. My advice to you is to study hard, cooperate with the teachers and administration, and have good attendance." Kemi Hutcherson, #6

"Getting to and staying at the top of your class is a hard and rewarding achievement. At times I thought it was tough, but keeping my grades up was a personal goal that kept me at the top of my class. My advice to underclassmen is to buckle down now. If you take your required courses now, and keep your grades up, you will have less pressure on yourself as you come closer to graduation. I encourage underclassmen to take advanced classes, because these classes better prepare you for the college experience. For me, being at the top of my class has given me a sense of pride, and I wish all the luck to the future graduates." Jonathan Bevers, #7

"As I think back I can remember being a freshman and thinking how hard it was going to be to not only graduate but to graduate in the top of my class. Now that I am a senior, I've realized that you do not have to be a genius to be at the top of your class. You just have to work hard, study and not let your social life get in the way of your school work. You only have four years to prove yourself so make the best of them." David Chambers, #8

"Truthfully, I don't see myself as a very bright student, but my mother has always pressured me to be a good student and not an average one. So all through school I've had to work hard and do all of my work and study a lot. You have to do it for yourself, no one will do it for you." Robert Lawson, #9

"Through my four years here at Manual I have managed to stay at the top of my class. I owe a lot of it to my parents. They told me how important it is to get good grades. As I start preparing to go to college in the fall, I'm realizing just how right they were. My advice to the underclassmen is to study as much as possible. Do all the homework now and in the end it will really pay off." Christy Lovins, #10

You know who they are. They come to you in your dreams with their egotistical attitude crying out "You are an underclassman! You are nothing! We are Gods and we rule!" These nightmarish teenagers on the verge of adulthood are seniors and they want revenge. For the three years prior to 1994, today's seniors were underclassmen who had to put up with upperclassmen's jokes. Now they're the upperclassmen, and it's thier turn. Here's what some Seniors love about being a Senior:

...The feeling you get when you can say, "yeah, I made it," and I can gloat, boast, and get conceited about being a senior. -Rhonda Grady

...I like the special friendly relationships that I have encountered with several students and teachers and the pleasure of knowing that in a few months I will be out of here. -Anthony Patterson

...By your senior year you know everyone and you become one of the big people on campus. -Amanda Mitchell

...I'm almost on my own and I know in a few months I'll graduate and never have to walk through these crowded hallways again. -Shauna Jarvis

...Being a senior gives you a lot of opportunities that underclassmen don't have. -Sarah Cloyd

...It's my last year and I get out a half day. -Kevin McClung

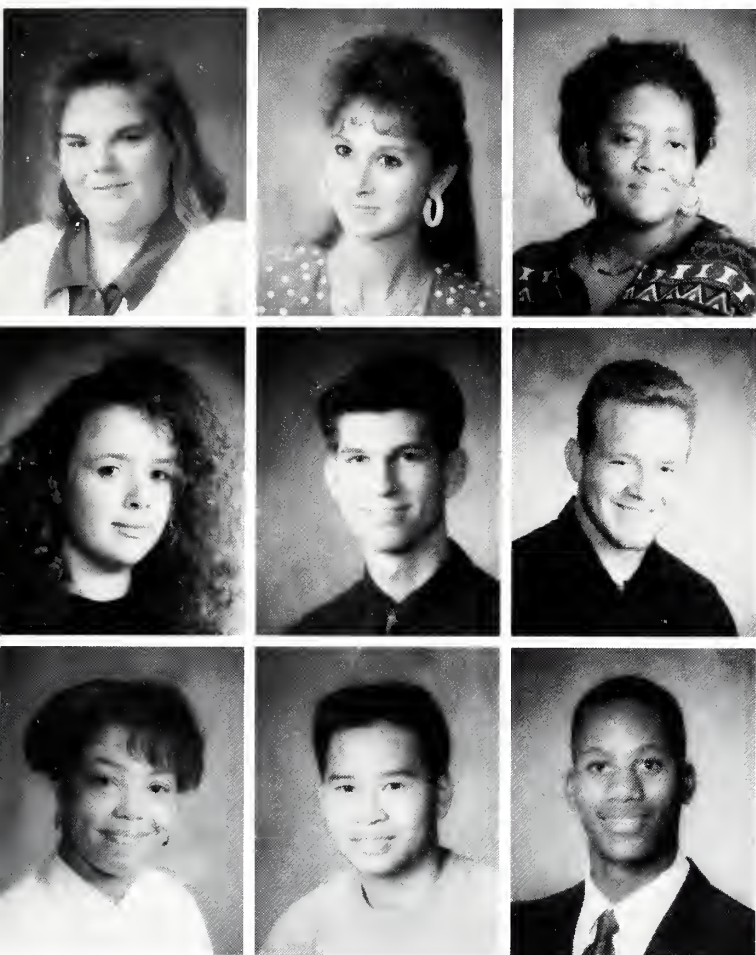

...Being looked up to by underclassmen. -Joey Bevers

...The friendships built over my highschool years and the respect I've gained from the teachers and administrators. -Terry Shoopman

...I have finally reached the pinnacle of my high-school education. I have accomplished many goals and have made close friendships. I'm trying to enjoy this year as best I can because I know I'll miss it when it's gone. -Dave Chambers

For the junior class of 1995, time is going much faster than it ever has before. After the end of the school year, you will all be "Seniors", and you will be taking your first steps to enter the real world.

The pressure of choosing what to do after high school builds more and more during the junior year. Taking the PSATs, preparing for the SATs and ACTs, choosing colleges and careers, and getting that grade point average up are just some of the pressures that juniors have to face.

Although there a lot of pressures for juniors, you seem to make sure that your junior year is as much fun as it can be. The Junior class is full of spirit and Redskin Pride. You are all looking forward to your first Prom and Junior Appreciation Day.

The junior class won the hall decorating contest during Homecoming and almost tied with the seniors for the "Spirit Stick."

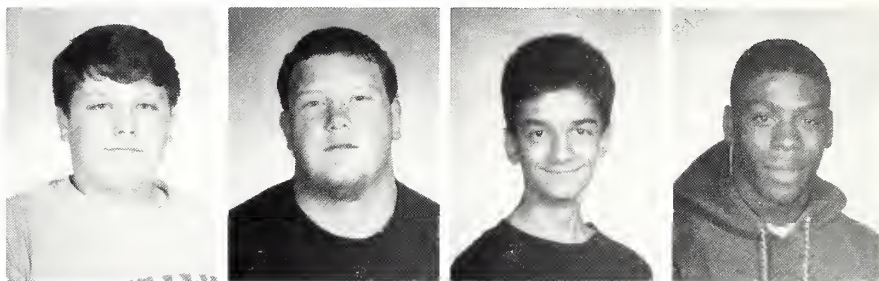

So juniors, whatever you do, keep your spirit up and let it explode. Don't be afraid to let your Redskin Pride shine through.

Let's all work together to make the Class of 1995 the best class that will ever graduate from the halls of Manual.

Have you ever wondered what some of the best excuses are for students being late to their class? I did a survey on the juniors here at Manual, and came up with some good replies. Here is a top ten list of the best excuses for being late to class.

#10. "There were lots of people walking very slow in front of me."

(Cornelius Ficklin)

#9. "My bus was late." (Taitha England)

#8. "My locker is down by the gym, and I just came from the math wing on the third floor." (Kim Donahue)

#7. "I was messing with my boyfriend." (Trela Ellington)

#6. "I was fooling around with other people's boyfriends."

(Dwanna Davie)

#5. "The bathrooms were full, and I had to wait." (Lilly Dulworth)

#4. "There was a fight in the hall, and I couldn't get through the crowd."

(Aaron Stierwalt)

#3. "I fell up the stairs". (Charles Taylor)

#2. "I was attacked by aliens." (Corrina Sutt)

#1. "There was a woman in labor in the hallway, and I had to deliver the baby." (Jon Summers)

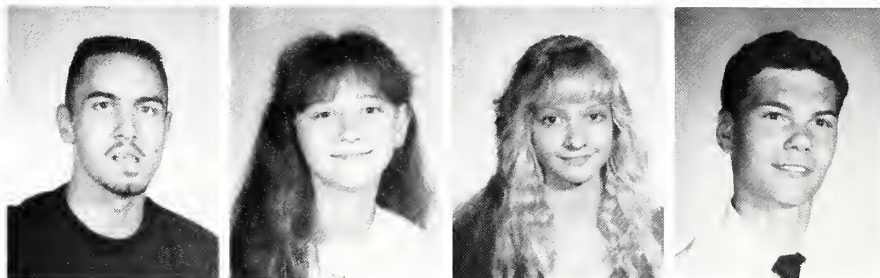

So remember these 10 great excuses. You'll never know when you need them, and it's fun using them just to find out which teachers are dumb enough to fall for them.

Why should I stop?!

"What do you mean I have a problem. I'm perfect, can't you tell?"

However, I had the opportunity to poll the junior class this winter, and whether they want to admit it or not, the juniors do have some bad and/or nervous habits.

Here are some of their habits:

biting nails, tapping on the desk, shaking their legs, caring for people too much, smoking, chewing on pen lids, spitting, treating people like they are dogs, not caring enough for people, folding oragomie in class, always tring to play off as seniors, popping knuckles, staring at seniors , wishing they were seniors.

These are the bad and nervous habits of Juniors. When these bad habits get annoying, the juniors here at Manual try to quit these habits. The problem is that they are human and quitting never seems to work because they simply pick up new habits.

Life or death

Final exams are a part of the year that most students would rather have left out. Finals can make you or break you. In most classes they count for at least 25% of your final grade. Finals test your skill and knowledge of all the things that you have learned throughout the semester.

Finals can be easy and finals can definitely be very hard. Some people feel that if they study for a long period of time, they can master these dreadful exams. On the other hand, some people feel that they only need to study for a short period of time. Then again, there are people who feel that they don't need to study at all! They feel that they are smart enough to ace the exam without any form of studying at all. Those people feel that their brain can guide them through exam with no problem. Senior Amanda Mitchell says "I prepare myself by praying before finals." Finals are a part of life, and we all have to learn to deal with them!

We have made it! We are finally NOT freshmen anymore, and now that we have finally gotten used to all the hustle and bustle of Manual high school, we can look forward to getting ready for our PSAT's. We can work on getting our grade point averages up so that the colleges of our choice will consider us for admission after our high school graduation. Last but not least we need to figure out what were going to do with "The Future."

Are we going to go to college? Are we going to join the armed forces? Are we going to go into the working world, or are we just going to sit at our parents' house vegetating and mooching off of them?

This is the year that we need to grow up a little bit and figure out what we want to do with our grown-up lives. It is time for "the Couch vs. the Career," and hopefully, the Career will win out. There is more opportunity in that direction, and there is definitely more money.

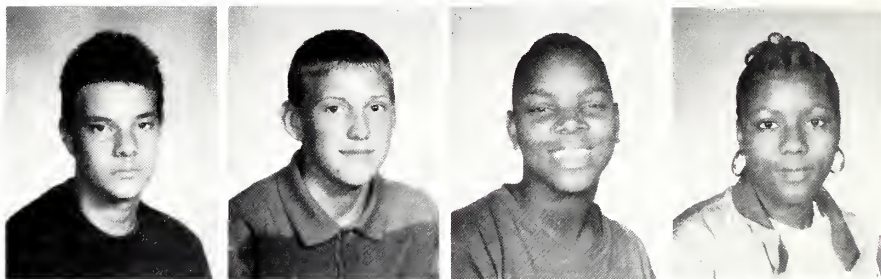

This is also a time for those who didn't get involved as freshmen to do just that.

Maybe you were too shy or imbarressed of being a freshman to get involved with too much. Get started!!

Children bearing children

Teenage pregnancy is a rising epidemic. It seems that more young girls are ending up pregnant than ever before. Why is this? Is it to feel loved? To really express "TRUE LOVE?" Is it to escape? Is it that they just don't care? These questions remain unanswered.

These young girls are having to grow up a lot faster without even experiencing their own youths. Now about the males on this subject, because this isn't just a one person situation. Do they really care about the unborn child or do they just care about their raging hormones? Or, like the girls, are these guys really ready to be a parent? These are more questions to be left unanswered.

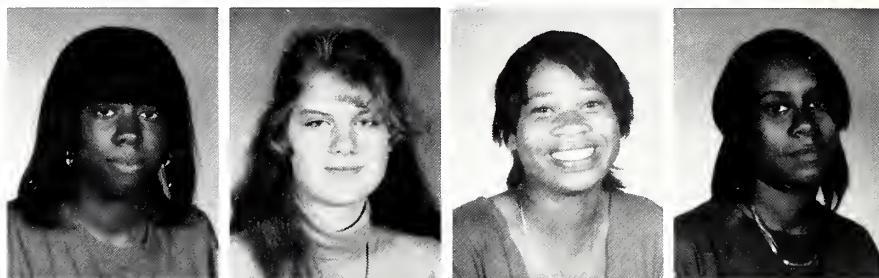

Sexually active couples should plan and consider using protection in any form. By doing this, it helps prevent unplanned births and sexually transmitted diseases. Even though protection isn't 100% fool proof, it can help. On the other hand, accidents do happen.

According to a Manual student that has been through this twice, it's hard. You don't get to do a lot of things because you're busy taking care of your own child. She doesn't regret what she's done, but her advice to others is to be aware of the consequences of what you're doing.

Guess What: Pizza for lunch

When asking people what they think of school lunch, there is no doubt in what their reply is going to be. The simple fact is it's awful.

There's nothing wrong with wanting a mouth watering cheeseburger on a fresh bun with a nice melted piece of cheese oozing out the sides of the "real bread" bun.

But get real. If you think that's what your 95 cents is going to pay for, think again. You might get a slightly warm thing that's called a cheeseburger that has a nice oily piece of crusty cheese clumping stickily between two substituted buns. Even though you get this, you should feel rewarded. I mean it's not everyday you get something besides pizza.

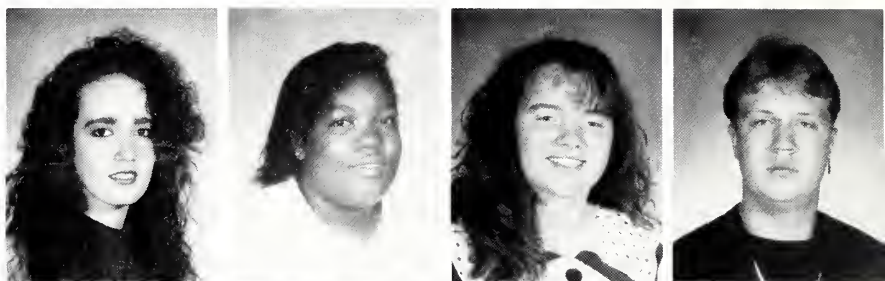

Nine out of ten times pizza will be on the menu. So go ahead and buy that nice looking thing that really tastes like cardboard and rubber.

While you're at it, wash it down with some watered-down juice. You'll feel the results later when you're begging to see the school nurse.

Welcome to Manual! All of you have to admit that in the beginning it was really tough.

All the seniors look so big.

All the juniors just pretended that you didn't exist, and those lame sophomores made it a point to stop you in the hallway to give you a hard time, even though it was only a very short time ago that they were in your shoes.

So, now that you are used to getting lost, dropping books, and being called a "Freshie," you can sit back and enjoy Manual High School.

You will be here for another three years so get involved in anything and everything that you can.

There are many clubs and sports that you can get involved in and get competitive with your fellow classmates. There are many new people, new teachers, and a new set of rules that you have had to get used to.

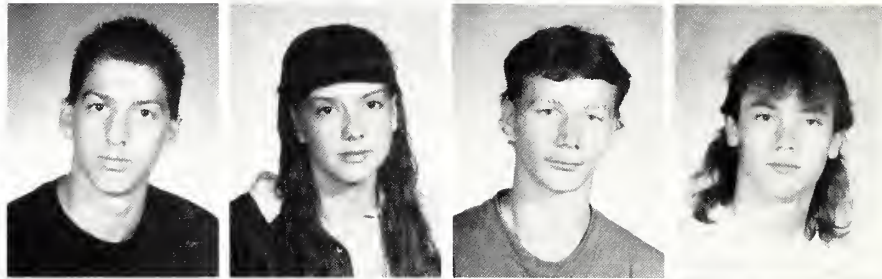

You're finally in high school. Now it is time to begin getting ready for college. There's a competitive world out there and you're in the midst of it.

So good luck in the next three years. Everything is up to you!

Ready to carry a license

There's nothing like going into a license branch one minute and coming out a little later with a driver's license. At that time we think it's the proudest moment of our lives. Next thing you know we go to the car lot. Maybe we don't get the car that we really want, but hey, we get a car. Ahh yeah, we're driving now. Now there's no stopping us. The roads are ours.

There are many of us who feel like that. Most students start driving during their senior year. However, a few of us start a little earlier. In fact, it's something we start dreaming about as freshmen, because the driver's license gives us a feeling of freedom.

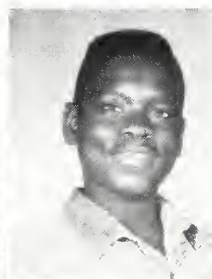

More enough, a car is a great thing to own, but most of us never think about the hardships of owning a car. The car payments are one thing and the insurance payments are almost always sky high at our young age.

Driving can be fun and rewarding if you let it be, so enjoy it when your time comes along.

The middle school to high school transition isn't easy for most freshmen. Switching from the top class in junior high school to the lowest class in high school is just one of the problems. Coming to school and realizing that only a small number of your friends will be attending your school can be pretty hard to deal with.

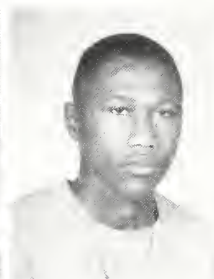

However, some freshmen come in and have no problems adjusting. Popularity just comes their way and hits them in the face. How do they do that? Are they just lucky or what? This popularity usually stays with them all through their high school years. I asked some popular freshmen how they became so "well-known." Most freshmen agree that "getting involved in sports and clubs helps out a lot, because you really get to know a lot of cool people." Others say "hangin' out in the hall with the already popular juniors and seniors" makes them cool.

Whatever the case, popularity shouldn't be the freshmen's first priority. It's just another thing for freshmen to worry about. True enough, friends play a major role in high school life, but you should recognize your true friends. They're the ones that will stick with you and like you for who you are.

The dreaded GLC

This year has come to be the year of disasters for freshmen. It seems that since August, freshmen have been making their stops to GLC.

A survey sent to five randomly selected freshman F.A.'s showed that out of around 125 students 12 people have been in GLC at some point in the year. Seven percent have been in GLC once. Two percent have been in GLC three times; . one percent has been in GLC four times. Another one percent has been in GLC six times.

Do you fit into this statistic? Mr. Whiteman runs GLC (which is fondly know as the "jail"). And, although he's a great guy, GLC is not the place to spend a great amount of time. Most people are assigned GLC for being tardy, not having the proper supplies, or causing some type of minor disturbance. Occasionally, people like GLC because it presents a good opportunity to catch up on some missed work or to rest up from the night before.

However, don't make GLC a habit. It can work against you.

This was the first year for the Select Schools Program, and it brought many new changes for Manual and its inhabitants. Not only did this program bring a hoard of new students; it also brought a great number of new teachers and staff members.

With all the frustrations and changes this school year has brought, the teachers have dealt with it and stayed devoted to their jobs.

The job of a teacher doesn't just stop at teaching. Teachers play the roles of counselors, friends, and confidants. They're always encouraging students to do their best. Although the school day is from 8:30 to 3:30, a teacher's work day extends far beyond those hours. A teacher's job is one of the most difficult; therefore, teachers deserve the most money, respect, and prestige that the world has to offer.

We can't forget about the other staff, such as the administration, the counselors, the school police, the nurse, the office staff, the custodians, and the cafeteria workers. These people work very hard to make sure that the students at Manual have a nice, safe, and comfortable environment in which they can learn what they are here to learn.

The Manual Redskins fought hard the night of Homecoming to earn their victory over Broad Ripple. Carrying the ball after a hand off from the quarterback is just one of the many skills the football team has nurtured this year.

World class athletes

Sports are very important to the student body for several reasons. In high school getting involved is like being in competition with one another.

Sports give students a great chance to show their talents and to compete against each other without being physically harmed. Students look forward to joining their favorite sport and becoming a part of that team.

Without sports there would be a lot of non-spirited people. Sports also persuade you to do school work and get good grades so you won't flunk off of your favorite position.

The girls golf team started the season excellently. The team recieved their first award in IPSAC.

The team members improved their individual score over the season. The team's strongest skills were loyalty, persistence, enthusiasm, spirit, and dedication.

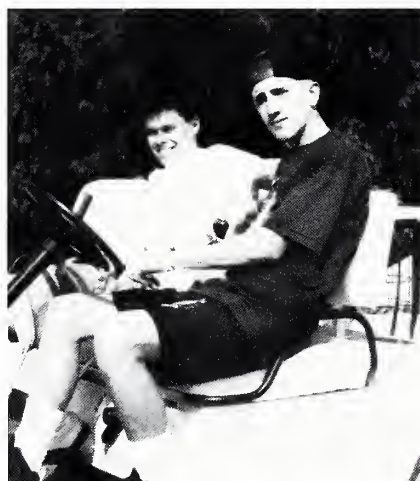

The most valuable player on the team was Junior Kerri Brown. The most improved player on the team was Senior Kelli Van Meter

The boys' 1993 golf team started off on a rocky road but they still pulled through. They ended their season with 5 wins and 11 losses. Coach Craig feels that the team's strongest skills were chipping and putting.

The men came in fourth at IPSAC, seventh in city and twelfth in the sectionals. In the sectionals the team played against all IPS schools and all Catholic schools in Indianapolis.

•Chuck Hutchings and Chad Phillips are sporting their totally marvelous wheels. This is how the Manual Golf team gets around in style.

- Lance Stephens soars through the air with the greatest of ease, much like NBA pro Michael Jordan.

• Lance Stephens and Eric Nibbs realize that being on the track team is more than just running and jumping. Here they get in their stretches before participating in the long jump.

The 1993 boys' track team has been extremely successful. They headed off well and ended the same way.

The team's strongest point was in distance.

Mr. Pike said the most outstanding athletes were Matt Eby and Vernon Morgan. Both young men continued on from their sectionals to compete in further events.

Matt Eby went on to be a state finalist in the high hurdles. He placed second in the Regionals and in the sectionals. Matt set a new school record of 14.7 in the high hurdles.

Vernon Morgan was sixth in 1600 and the 800 in the state meet. He was first in the city, sectionals, and regionals. Vernon set a record for 1600-(14:18.6), and, 800-(1:56.3).

The 1993 boys' track team was 7-4 this year, and they were very competitive. With many returning athletes, they can anticipate a good year in 1994.

There were many newcomers to the girls' track team in the 1993 season.

The girls excelled in many areas including shot put, discus, and high jump. However, their coach Miss Copher said the team could have benefited from a little more practice.

The season's most outstanding team members were senior Shanea Woods, junior April Edwards, and Lashaun Smith.

Shanea's strongest areas were the shot put, and the discus. She placed in the regionals for shot put. April was strongest in the 400 dash.

LaShaun proved to be the strongest in the 400 dash and the high jump.

With many underclassmen joining the girls' track team in the 1994 season the team should be much stronger.

A LEAGUE OF THEIR OWN

- Part of softball is playing the waiting game. The EMHS softball team waits patiently for their turn.
- Carrie Page, Michelle Gaskin, and Andrea Bates return to the dugout after their turn on the field.

Last year the girls' softball team was very good at playing their positions.

The girls worked hard and played their best to give the Redskins a winning streak.

Seniors made up most of the team, but since they won't be with us, we will always remember them by giving their best in winning the IPSAC Championship.

The three most valuable players lost were Michelle Gaskins for her pitching ability, Brandy Muckey for her outstanding performance on second base, and Jenni Witt for not only her short stop excellence but also for her powerful line drives.

This year we look for the stars to be Andrea Bates, Dayna Russell, Kelli VanMeter, and the rest of the devoting team. With the talent which is returning, the team promises to be strong.

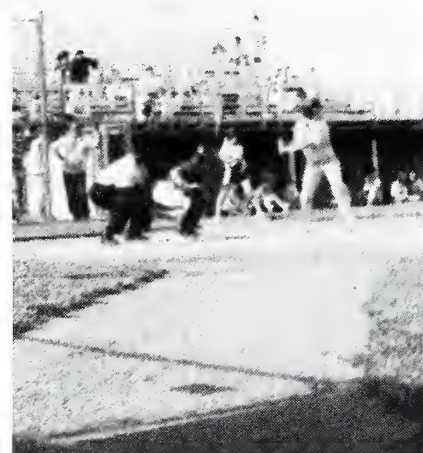

We wish the girls luck for the new season, and look forward for them to have a good season.

- James Gunter stomps on a couple of Broad Ripple players as he carries the ball to gain additional yardage. Cross your fingers and hope that he makes it!

The team motto for the 1993 Manual Redskins Football team was "Expect To Win," and win they did.

There were many memorable moments for the team this year. There was their 7-6 Homecoming victory over Broad Ripple. This was Manual's first Homecoming victory in three years.

Another highlight for the Redskins was for the third year they were able to advance to the second round of sectional competition by defeating the Pendolton Heights Arabians with a score of 28-0. Also, the Redskins finished second in IPSAC this year, right behind top ranked Washington Continentals.

The senior leadership this year was tremendous with the five senior captains Brad Pardue, Jamed Gunter, Eric Nibbs, Vernon Ward, and Lance Stephens.

The volleyball team had a slow start, but finished in good standings. They excelled in IPSAC competition and demonstrated high ability as they won the Manual Invitational.

Coach Kathy Newman-Smith said the team was effective when they played as a team. She also stated that they showed strong skills in hitting and passing. The varsity players were Andrea Bates, Jamie Bevers, Jodi Brink, Christie Johnson, Krista Muckey, Angie Powers, Dayna Russell, and Heather Teater.

This year's junior varsity team didn't finish as well, but they had a good season. They had a strong effort from Beth Bates. The 1993 boys' cross country team had a successful season even though most of the runners were underclassmen or new to the team. Vernon Morgan and Brad Ford proved to be the team's advantage.

Morgan has consistently proven to be one of the finest runners in the state as he had an undefeated season until he placed sixth in the semi-state competition.

The team just missed advancing from sectional competition by one place.

Ms. Copher, the girls' cross country coach, has described the girls' season as "very interesting."

Distance and sprints were the team's strongest skill. Once again the team had to build upon new runners with freshman Selene Harvey proving to be the team's best runner. Harvey placed 6th in Sectional, 12th in Regional, and 3rd in IPSAC.

only losing two players this year. They are Amorita Thomas and Anna Wright. Coach Smith expects the rest of the team to be back and look forward to a great season next year. Other team members were Tashane Boyd, Latissu Ivy, and Tashonna Mays.

The Manual Wrestling Team set its goals high, and they worked hard to achieve those goals. However, they failed to reach the plateau of excellence that they had hoped for. In the pursuit of that excellence, the 1994 Redskin wrestlers set many new school records and were ranked as high as 8th in the state.

The 'Skins managed to post an outstanding 26 win and 1 loss dual meet record. They also managed to win their third runner-up placement trophy in the city tournament in the last 4 years. A new school record was set as the team won their fourth straight IPSAC title.

For the fourth year in a row, the team was able to place wrestlers in the state tournament. This year, Mike Glenn, John Amos, and Craig Kello made it to Market Square Arena. Ten wrestlers made it to the regionals. Seven of the regional qualifiers were sectional champs.

It was another great year by this outstanding group of Redskin athletes. We know that this group will continue to do great things as they continue to live by their motto of "Work Hard and Be Loyal."

Hey, freshmen!!!! Do you want to fill that after-school void in your life? Since you're too young to get a job, why not join the freshmen sports teams.

For those who prefer an early start, why not tryout for the freshmen football team in the fall. The freshmen football team had a good season. If you like to play basketball, why not try out for our freshmen basketball team. The freshmen boys had a great season this year.

We don't have any specific sports for freshmen girls, although we do have a freshmen cheerleading squad. The freshmen girls have fun cheering for the freshmen football and basketball teams, while learning leadership skills and building self-esteem.

Most freshmen go on to play junior varsity teams thier sophomore year, or if you have exceptional talent in your sport, you may be asked to play on varsity. For each year on varsity you may earn your numerals, varsity letter, and jacket.

Freshmen year should be fun, so come on and have a blast!!

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

- Freshman Selene Harvey ran herself into the ground as she moved her way into Regional competition.
- Vernon Morgan strides his way to yet another uncontested victory.

One of the biggest parts of Manual High School is the outstanding sports curriculum. There isn't a day that goes by that Athletic Director Ray Schultz doesn't make an announcement about one of the many Redskin teams deserving of a "BIG YAHOO" or who have brought "another victory to the WIG WAM."

One Redskin team that has done exceptionally well this year is the wrestling team. They brought many trophies and medals to Manual. Wrestlers who did very well were Craig Kello, Mike Glenn, Chad Phillips, and John Amos.

This year's Varsity football team did quite well also. They defeated many more teams who had previously upset the Redskins. One of the more memorable moments for this team was winning Homecoming against the Broad Ripple Rockets. Outstanding players this year were Vernon Ward, Eric Nibbs, Lance Stevens, James Gunter, Todd Shelby, Brad Pardue, and James Hopgood.

Lady Redskin teams also do very well at Manual. The volleyball team definitely did their share to bring victory to Manual by winning the IPSAC tournament. They worked really hard as a team to do their best. The outstanding players were Dayna Russel and Andrea Bates.

The Lady Redskin Basketball team did phenomenally well this year also. They came in third in the IPSAC competition and they improved throughout the season were Takeela Freeman, Mishanda Boyd, Kenya Swedish, LaShawn Smith and Amorita Thomas.

by Amanda L. Ott

• Junior Takeela Freeman not only hurdles for the girls' track team but she's a star on the basketball team.

•The freshman basketball team continued a Manual tradition as they won the freshman city tournament. Flash those number ones!

WE'VE GOT THE BEAT

Give me a C-H-E-E-R-L-E-A-D-E-R, that spells integrity and hard work. The cheerleaders and boostermen have worked very hard to keep the crowds pumped up and have done a great job so far this year. They were so enthusiastic that they had the crowds shouting the cheers along with them.

Many people have said that this has been the best squad that we have had in a long time. The varsity squad consists of two seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore and the boostermen consist of two seniors and one sophomore.

If you like to work hard to achieve something great, then cheerleading is for you.

by Sarah Cloyd

- Junior Varsity-Cheerleaders: Front: Stephanie Peebler; middle: Amie Caviness, Natalie Townsend, Jamie Hudson; back: Angie Rodriguez, Jessie Matula.

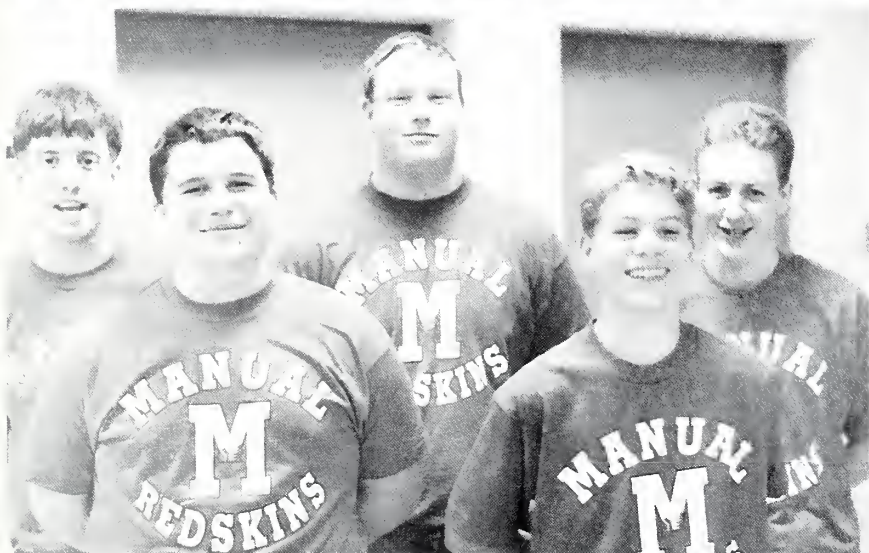

- The Boostermen and varsity cheerleaders demonstrate their mount before a Manual game.

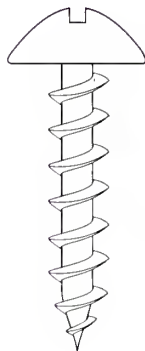

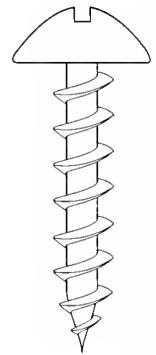

- The cheerleaders strut their stuff during the Homecoming pep session. They performed a number of cheers and a dance to get the crowd fired up for the big game against Broad Ripple.

- Boostermen: Front: Charles Shadowen, Sean Case; Back: Scott Dicks, David Alexander, Brad Clapper.

THIS FATAL ACCIDENT WAS CAUSED BY TEENAGERS GETTING STONED AND GOING TOO FAST.

Every year, thousands of young people die in car accidents caused by drugs and alcohol. But now you can wreck your life without hitting the gas pedal. The number of reported AIDS cases among teenagers has increased by 96% in the last two years. If you get high and forget, even for a moment, how risky sex can be, you're putting your life on the line. Call 1-800-729-6686 for a free booklet with more information. AIDS. The IVIAN is dedicated to the memory of...

...Mary Rabourn, the Media Center Director. She was the woman who introduced the freshmen to Manual's library and introduced the staff to the latest technology. Instrumentally assisting Dr. Hignite in developing Snowball, she always had a bright smile for everyone who passed her way. She will be greatly missed.

...Chris Warfield, sophomore. He was a very good and devoted person who loved to play basketball. He was the type of person who got along with everyone he met. People often referred to him by the nickname, "Twink". Chris will always be remembered by those who knew him for he will always be a part in our hearts and in our soul.

As editor-in-chief of the 1994 IVIAN, I would like to acknowledge all of those people who contributed to this year's yearbook. This includes the staff members who traveled a very long road that was full of many roadblocks. But despite the many obstacles, we all worked together as a team and overcame everything that got in our way, and by doing so, we were able to bring to you "A Whole New World."

I would also like to thank Miss Copher, our very dedicated advisor, and Chris Frick, our very inspiring Herff Jones representative. Without their exceptional advice and direction, this "New World" would not have been whole.

So, as you turn the pages of this year's IVIAN, don't forget all the hard work and dedication that was put into these pages by the IVIAN staff and all those who were involved in this year's yearbook. They have done all that is possible to bring to the Manual family the memories that should be cherished for years to come.

Thanks bunches!!!
Amanda L. Ott
